

Call for Papers

For the upcoming edition of the “Beiträge zur Internationalen Politik und Sicherheit” (BIPS) we are looking for papers (German or English) focusing on the fields of International Relations, Foreign Policy and Security Policy. They can either be written as articles (up to 15 pages) or as opinions (up to 3 pages).

BIPS is an open-access journal reaching a wide professional audience. It serves as a forum for young academics and combines contributions from students and experienced researchers. We therefore use a double-blind review process.

For further information, please look at the Writer’s Guidelines at www.agips.org/bips.html

Deadline for articles: December 15, 2011

Deadline for opinions: January 15, 2012

Please submit your contributions to us at bips@agips.org

We are open to further questions or comments.

Looking forward to receive your texts!
